w/c 29/6/2020

Dear all,

Thank you for all the work you have handed in, emailed or put on our blog. I loved reading your superhero poems and seeing your pop up chairs. Also, your attempts at creating roller coasters were fantastic. Your 100-word challenge pieces showed you beginning to think like Year 6 writers. A tough challenge but you must keep aiming high with the sentences and language you are using.

Again, if you need to speak to me about anything or you need more resources to support your child, please contact the office. I will then aim to ring you during my lunch break or at the end of school. I will deliver any home learning resources you may need.

This week, our book is called 'The Haunting of Rose Cottage'. I hope you enjoy it.

I have set you a descriptive writing piece that would be expected in Year 6. It is time to start thinking about next year and the challenges ahead. Read the writing prompt carefully. You must take time to plan out your ideas before writing. It is on the art work completed by WW2 war artist, Paul Nash.

Your History work will continue on WW2 with the impact of the Blitz. Did any of your families live through these extremely difficult times? Maybe you can do some extra research. My nan often talked about the drone of the planes overhead and then the sound of bombs exploding! Your D and T work will be focused on the Anderson Shelter and your art work will be connected with L.S. Lowry and his famous painting of Salford during World War 2.

I have also added two maths mats to go alongside your Mathematics work.

Finally, your R.E. will continue on our theme of Buddhism.

Have a hard working week. Please keep using the blog to keep in touch and keep sending me your pictures of what you are up to. I am so proud of you all and everything you are doing.

Mr McDonough

Teaching Tips:

Don't forget to look back at the Grammar and punctuation help sheets (Y5 Home Learning page) when you are completing the grammar tasks.

Mathletics—remember to use the 'i' button if you need help to complete the task.
