

Year 5 Home Learning

Week beginning 26th October 2020

We have been spending some time looking at inspirational figures from Black History. The children have created a piece of art work in the style of Chris Ofili's 'No Woman, No Cry'.

For homework over half term, I would like the children to research the person they have painted (or they can choose another historical figure from Black History who interests/inspires them if they wish). Their task is to create either a PowerPoint or poster displaying what they have found out. The children will have a chance to teach their peers what they have learnt when we return.

The children have already received a Spelling Bee sheet. Could you please practice these over half term so we are ready for the first week back?

Homework is due on Friday 6th November.

To Year 5- I am so proud of you all! You have settled back so well and are working extremely hard! Enjoy your well-deserved rest!

To parents/carers- Thank you for your continued support this half term. Have a lovely break and I will see you in November!

Best
Miss McVeigh